Delta Industrial Rolls Out a Giant Winner

Challenged with a massive project, Delta Industrial showcases their expertise and craftsmanship.

Bryan, OH. – Delta Industrial has completed construction on a new 220,000+ square foot manufacturing plant for Titan Tire, a subsidiary of Titan International, Inc.

The plant will produce a new patent pending super giant 63-inch steel belted radial tire for use on agricultural, earth moving and construction vehicles. Testing performed by Titan on the new tire indicates that tire life could be extended by 20 to 30 percent over conventional tires.

Delta began the massive project on August 2007 with the installation of the concrete building column footings and the exterior wall-column base plates. The critical second phase of the operation involved the design, construction and expert placement of 30+ foundations, ranging in depth from 12-inches to 30 feet to accommodate a diverse variety of heavy and complex equipment used in the manufacturing processes.

When asked about the project, Tom Lytle, Delta Project Manager, indicated,

“This project was a unique opportunity, outside of the automotive industries, that exemplifies our company’s design and build capabilities.”

The project was completed on time and within budget. Delta Industrial, the recognized leader in machine foundations, press pits and industrial concrete construction has offices in Chesterfield Michigan, Trussville Alabama, and Fort Thomas Kentucky. The company, founded in 1993, specializes in the design and construction of machine and press foundations, concrete flat work and steel fabrication.
