Delta Industrial Expands Services and Customer Expectations with Newest Kentucky Facility and New Sales Representative

Delta Industrial opens a third regional office in Fort Thomas, Kentucky to keep up with increased business demands.

Fort Thomas, KY. – Delta Industrial, a recognized leader in industrial and commercial concrete construction, has opened a third regional facility in Fort Thomas, Kentucky due to increased demand for contracting services. The new location and sales representative Chris Gray, are well equipped to service local customers and respective projects in the Kentucky and Southern Ohio areas.

The Fort Thomas, KY location is the third regional office for Delta Industrial's growing business. The corporate office is stationed in Chesterfield, Michigan. The second regional office is in Trussville, Alabama. Delta serves a wide and diverse base of industrial clients nationwide and has recently completed projects in Alabama, Hawaii, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, New York, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and Wisconsin.

In addition to the new Fort Thomas infrastructure, Delta has added sales representative Chris Gray to its staff. He will be running the regional office due to his vast experience with concrete construction. Gray is a 1994 graduate from the University of Kentucky College of Engineering with a BS in Civil Engineering. From 1995-1998 Gray worked as a Project Engineer/Project Manager for Baker Concrete Construction, Inc. 1998-2001 was Vice President of Business Development with minority ownership of Jostin Concrete Construction, Inc. Most recently, 2001-2009, Gray worked for Cornerstone Concrete Construction, Inc. in multiple capacities including estimating, marketing, business development and project management.

With more than 30 years of experience, Delta specializes in the design and construction of machine and press foundations, concrete flatwork and steel fabrication. Delta is well versed in cutting edge construction techniques and is able to assist clients from concept to design to construction. With the addition of the Fort Thomas, KY office and the vast experience of construction knowledge that Chris Gray has brought to the Delta Industrial Team, Delta is sure to bring a quality product to any industrial construction project there is to offer.
